This Month's Chuckle!

Two husbands were discussing their married lives. Although happily married, they admitted that there were arguments sometimes.

Then Chad said, "I've made one great discovery. I know how to always have the last word."

"Wow!" said Sherman, "how did you manage that?"

"It's easy," replied Chad. "My last word is always "Yes, Dear."."

Mission to Haiti submitted by Ruth Bartlett.
www.sasknefhaitimission.blogspot.com

I recently returned from Haiti having had the exceptional opportunity to be part of a team who traveled there with the purpose of setting up a medical clinic, and helping as many people as possible during our time there. Our team consisted of a doctor, 9 nurses, 2 handymen and a receptionist. Our goal was to see and treat 600 people. That was in six days of clinic. We saw 842 people and felt that in a small way we were able to touch and minister to their physical needs. We also took time to minister to emotional and spiritual needs, of which there are many.

Yes, Haiti still has lots of room for development. We saw numerous tent cities enroute to our base, 2 hours from the capital of Port au Prince. The devastating effects of the January 2010 earthquake were still evident -- piles of rubble where once buildings had stood. Tremors were still happening at least weekly and sometimes more often. On one occasion, we saw a mass exodus of Haitians out of the waiting room. Upon inquiring the reason, were told, "earthquake -- didn't you feel it?" No we hadn't. We had just heard a distant rumble of thunder. That rumble was not thunder. It was the sound of a tremor. I recalled having heard that sound a few days earlier, commenting, "there's thunder, but there isn't a cloud in the sky and the sun is shining."

I'm glad we had a Haitian driver who was familiar with driving habits there. All motor vehicles, donkeys and wheelbarrows have the right of way. So watch out if you don't want to get hit, bumped or run over!

We took with us a large supply of medications, bars of soap, sun glasses, reading glasses and other medical equipment, much of which was donated by people here at home. What we didn't use was left there for future medical teams to use. Yes, we did run out of some supplies, but listen to what our doctor said: "every time we put our hand in the bag for a container we pray that there will be one more. We have also been using the same 2 bottles of liquid children's vitamins for the last day and a half. We have probably poured around 1-2 L of vitamin syrup out of the same two 150 ml bottles already. You do the math!"

Upon arriving we set up a make-shift clinic and pharmacy. Prior to leaving this was dismantled and inventory was taken of the pharmaceutical supplies. At the mission compound where we were working progress is being made towards building a medical clinic. This would really save on time setting up and then dismantling after each medical team.

Our goal was to minister to the "whole man" (body, soul and spirit). We had an office set up outdoors under a mango tree to counsel and pray with the many whose needs were much more than of a physical nature. I had the awesome privilege to be out there much of the time. The needs are so great! But no greater than the God we serve! It was so rewarding to see the change in the countenance of some who, so distraught and downcast prior to being prayed for, left with a smile and hope in their hearts to face another day. There were times that we worked extra hours to include all who were referred to the "counseling department" under the mango tree.

Our first opportunity for rest and relaxation came a week after we were there. We went to the beach and had fun in the sun and in the waters of the Caribbean. This was only about 20-25 minutes from the mission compound -- the same distance whether you walked or whether you went in the mission van. I chose to walk, as did several others of our team.

I did experience the excitement involved with a local Haitian pointing up to the rafters of the church where I was doing one of my teaching sessions. Upon turning around and looking up, I saw a snake coiled in the rafters. After some excitement and help from construction workers next door, the snake was disposed of and the class resumed. I was informed later on that the snake was probably not poisonous. It was probably there to get a rat. On several occasions, during a church service, a family of rats run around up on the rafters. Somewhat distracting I'm sure!

A highlight, and there really are many, was the help given to an elderly lady who had the responsibility of caring for her less than a year old grandson. The mother had abandoned the child, and the grandmother, because of her frail condition along with dire poverty was unable to properly care for him. One of the nurses on our team "adopted" him. This involves sending a set amount each month for his support. This will be directed through the mission to the grand-mother. The nurse also purchased 3 female goats. The grandmother received one of these while we were still there. By the way, the one she received was already very pregnant! This should provide milk and extra income for the family.

This mission has made a lasting impression on my mind and heart. I am so glad to have been a part of it. I trust that we were able to impact those we ministered to, as much as I feel we were all personally impacted by these beautiful Haitian people.

Coming Soon – Southern Prairie Railway Tours

The Ogema Heritage Railway Association began as the Transportation Division of the Deep South Pioneer Museum in July, 2010. Southern Prairie Railway, the operating division of the Ogema Heritage Railway Association, has been in the process of being created for the last 4 years.

An engine and one passenger car have been purchased and fund raising has begun to bring the equipment to Ogema and restore them. The centennial celebration in 2012 is the target goal to have the train tour fully functional.

The train will be operating on the Red Coat Road and Rail Tracks. There are plans to have the train stop in Pangman as well as other communities. This is exciting news for Pangman as it will bring tourists to our community.

Can you help? They need 250 people to donate $200 each in order to purchase GE44 Tonner Diesel Locomotive. Or, 150 people to donate $150 each in order to purchase a Pullman 70 Passenger Car.

To donate please send your payment to the Town of Ogema, PO Box 159, Ogema, SK S0C 1Y0. For more information visit their website at www.southernprairierailway.com

A Look Back! Submitted by Don Gurskey, President of the Pangman Co-op.

The Pangman Co-op celebrates its 75th year in 2011. You are invited to their 75th Annual Meeting on Thursday, April 7th at the Pangman School. Supper at 6:00 pm (tickets required, check at the Food Store) with meeting to follow at 7 pm.

April 1st, 1936 became the official date of incorporation. The Co-op started out in a small building located where the cafe is today; as member's needs increased it moved to the present site of the Service Centre.

In 1990 the decision was made to decommission our bulk plant. The cost to build a new bulk plant at our location was too expensive so we went together with Bengough, Ogema, Kayville and Viceroy to deliver fuel from a new corporate bulk plant. The corporate plant has been working very well. As our single axle fuel truck was in need of a lot of repairs we purchased our first tandem fuel truck. In 1991 we started delivering Ogema Co-op's fuel and still do today.

We decided to purchase the property across the street from the CPR for purpose of building new storage sheds for the storage for feed, oil, and tires; as well as to make a bay to house the fuel truck.

When the grocery store closed in 2005 it was evident that one was desired by the citizens. With shareholders loans from the membership we purchased the old store and equipment. Major renovations took place inside with insulating and gyprocing, as well as some new shelving was erected.

We are pleased to tell the membership that at 2010 year end the grocery store has a black bottom line before FCL patronage.

The Khediye Heritage Recreation Club needs your help.

The old brick school is showing its age. We've had water leaking into the basement for the last few years due to: cracks in the foundation, drainage problems and deterioration of the brick exterior.

Khediye Rec Club members have already started some repairs. We have a contractor's estimate to do the exterior brickwork repair for $33,500.00. We realize this will be an expensive undertaking and it won't happen overnight.

The rec club is applying for grants, planning fund raising events and have a commitment from the R.M. of Norton for financial help to do these repairs, but it will take more.

In order to complete this project your help is needed. Any amount, large or small, and your support of our fund raisers will be greatly appreciated. Tax deductible receipts will be issued upon request.

We have 2 upcoming events, watch for the posters:
